HE SHOULD RETIRE OR BE RETIRED.

Months ago we expressed our conviction that Judge James Hargis Chairman of the Tenth Congressional Democratic Committee should resign. Subsequent events have not caused us to change our mind. We regard his retention in Democratic councils or councils as a reproach and a disgrace to the Democratic party. If it is within the power of the State Central Committee or any other committee to remove him, the highest interest of self respecting people demands that he be retired at once.

Should any support be given him by the Democratic organization of Montgomery county it would be contrary to our conception of political decency, interest or honor.

BE CAREFUL.

There is need for more statesmen and patriots and less of politicians and intriguers, schemers and robbers in the administration of civil and political affairs. Some people can be fooled sometimes, but all the people can not be fooled all the time.

There is danger ahead for the individual, community or political party, who or which tries to force unsavory methods or men upon the public.

GET OUT.

As a journalist we are not sitting in judgment on the guilt or innocence of any of the parties in any way connected with the charges in the Breathitt county affairs. That matter is before the courts and by them it will be settled, but as a Democrat we would be heard. Judge Hargis is the member of the State Central Committee from the 10 Congressional District, and because of the dealings and decision of the committee the men composing that body are presumably the party's best, men whose character is above reproach and who would deal justly with all men. Without reflecting upon the character of the gentleman from the 10th District it is no more than proper that we should call the attention of Judge Hargis to the fact that the charges preferred against him are odious, that they by implication have become exponents of party morals and reflect discredit upon the great body politic of which he is a component part and because of these facts and further that he is a party representative under trial for charges of the most serious nature, and for the further reason that to continue as party leader is hurtful to the party, to us it appears necessary that he resign and that another be chosen in his place. Should he refuse to resign then the next step should be taken by the committee to relieve itself of any dead-weight, and if this can't be done then it will be incumbent upon the Democratic party to elect another and this they will do. For it is they who are supreme. Mr. Hargis' friends would do him a kindness if they would request him to sever his connection with the State Committee.

BE JOYOUS.

Send or bring us $2 at once and receive the ADVOCATE and BOB TAYLOR'S MAGAZINE for a full year. No man who yearns for eloquence, pathos or humor should miss this combination of papers, the Advocate with the current news and editorials and Gov. Taylor's Magazine with Gov. Taylor's editorials, "Lights and Shadows," anecdotes, and his "Reminiscences of the Platform," it has been decided, in view of the continued calls for Gov. Taylor's lectures in book form, to run serially through. "BOB TAYLOR'S MAGAZINE" all his great lectures, beginning with "The Fiddle and The Bow," followed by "The Paradise of Fools," "Visions and Dreams," "Dixie," "Love, Laughter and Song," "Sentiment," "The Old Plantation," and "Castles in the Air," all of which will be beautifully illustrated, so as to more vividly portray the many quaint and humorous characters which have formed the basis of all his lectures, and which have been depicted by him in such a unique way as to make him the foremost entertainer on the American platform.

UNSCRUPULOUS.

Gov. Beckham has had an opportunity to see how a man's name is sometimes used by unscrupulous men. The deposition of Mose Feltner tells how James Hargis had promised that a pardon would be secured from the Governor for Feltner if he (Feltner) was convicted for a certain crime. Feltner also states that Hargis recited different cases in which pardons had been secured for criminals because Hargis and Judge Redwine had asked for such pardons.

We understand how such representations could be made without the knowledge or consent of the Governor. Such free use of the name or promised clemency of our Executive will doubtless cause him to be cautious in any connection with Breathitt county crimes.

EXTREMELY ODIOUS.

That evidence of Mose Feltner as published in the daily papers and which was eagerly read and young alike, was really fearful, dreadful and terrifying. It makes the brave and resolute law-abiding citizen tremble from indignity and the more effeminate to almost seek a hiding when they read that part of the Feltner's deposition which makes the accused in Breathitt to even assail the character of our Chief Executive by implicating him with the Breathitt feud troubles. Such assault on character shakes the very foundation of a State Government and furnishes additional evidence for a strong determination in the wiping out of crime in our State and bringing the guilty to speedy and just punishment. Such odium must be cleared away because it is right that it should be.

SCHOOL LIFE IN JAPAN ODD.

Teacher and Scholars Bow Low to Each Other—Other queer Customs of Pupils.

When the little Japanese saw they sit on the floor, making their kimonos and other picturesque garments with a paper thimble, a long needle upon which the cloth is run, and an endless thread. This is out of the large reel when the seams are finished, the knot being made at the end of the process, instead of at the beginning as with us.

When the school children are called to lessons, as the bell is rung, the class awaits the arrival of the teacher outside the door, ranged in line. The teacher bows as low as possible; the pupils bow still lower, then enter the room, taking their places quietly and standing still. The teacher then bows from her place at the desk; the girls bow again and take their seats. At the end of 50 minutes a man walks through the corridors clapping a pair of wooden clappers. The teacher arises, bows to the scholars, who bow again, rise and march out of the door, range themselves in order and wait for their teacher. She walks out, bows again, while they make their farewell obeisance and quietly disperse for the ten-minute recess that follows each 50-minute recitation. The whole thing is very pretty, and a teacher writing from Japan says:

"I am charmed with the manner of calling to order and dismissing classes. It might have a civilizing effect if introduced into American schools."

The babies of Japan, though not dressed as ours here in America, are much more comfortable. The dressing consists of a loose cotton undergarment, with no buttons or pins, and a flannel overgarment made like a grown-up kimono, tied about the waist with a flannel belt. This is long enough to cover the baby's feet, and the hands as well, thus serving a double purpose—to keep them from scratching the face and out of the mouth. The Japanese infant escapes the complicated process of dressing which causes our babies to shriek every day. Its whole costume is put on in one minute—no buttons, sleeves, pins or strings being required.

Not only is the Japanese dress an improvement, but the whole manner of treatment. Nobody makes a noise at the baby, jiggles or shakes it to stop its crying. If it feels like crying no one trots or yells at it, but it is allowed to go on crying until it stops of its own sweet will. This is one reason the Japanese children are so sunny-tempered. They are as bright and active and wide-awake as our children, and the quiet that surrounds their babyhood makes them less nervous and irritable than American babies.

Not Loyal to Her.

Mrs. Newbridge—Yes, I'm determined to leave him. He has doubted my word.

Her Mother—But surely you won't leave him simply because he doubted your word?

"It's too hateful of him. He should know I'm always right, even if I'm wrong."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

KENTUCKY WESLEYAN COLLEGE

COMPLETELY DESTROYED
 BY FIRE—LOSS $75,000—INSURANCE $20,000.

On Tuesday morning about 8:30 o'clock the Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester Ky., was completely destroyed by fire. The fire originated in the basement at the furnace and spread so rapidly that the entire building was soon doomed. Every thing except a few chairs and benches was lost. The building was erected in 1890 at a cost of $45,000 when material was cheap. The library costing about $20,000 burned. The estimated cost of replacing the building is near $100,000. Total loss about $75,000, insurance $20,000. Class work will be resumed to-day.

While the building was on fire the Commercial Club met to render aid for the future.

Warning Against Money Order Swindlers Given by Post-office Inspector.

Mr. C. B. Speer, the Lexington post-office inspector, warns the public to be on the lookout for raised money orders.

He has lately been in receipt of numerous notices and circulars showing that merchants all over the country are being victimized by clever swindlers. On Tuesday night he received information of an order for 20 cents, purchased in one Nebraska town, having been raised and cashed for $15 in Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. Speer says that the general plan is for the swindler to purchase a money order for a small amount in one town, address it to himself in another town and then, after raising it, get some unsuspecting merchant to cash it.

All merchants are warned not to cash money orders except at their peril, as the post-office department can not be responsible.

In Florida.

It was reported that Rev. E. E. Bomar, former pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist church of this place, now Assistant Correspondent Secretary of the Foreign Mission Society of the Southern Baptist convention had mysteriously disappeared. The report says Mr. Bomar had engagements to meet in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi and that he had not been heard of for more than ten days. His friends here were very solicitous and on Tuesday the glad news came that Mr. Bomar was in Pensacola, Florida and would be at his home in Richmond in a few days.
